

Important

Having Braille available shows that people who are blind or have low vision are important to your business

Inclusive

When you hand your information to someone, you want them to be able to read what is written

Transcription and Embossing Services

- More and more organisations are choosing to have braille on their information so they can be easily contacted by clients who are blind or have low vision.
- Being inclusive is more than just words, it's braille too, and any organisation that has contact with people who may require braille should have a resources that reflects this.

Specifications:

Because there are so many variables, please contact us direct for a quote so that we can discuss your specific requirements.

Braille House transcribes and embosses all kinds of Braille and Moon materials for many different organisations and individuals.

Here is just a sample of what we are able to produce:

- Party or wedding invitations
- Access and Inclusion policies
- Letters
- Religious text and church service materials
- Children's books
- University examination papers
- NDIS or other official documentation
- Personal recipe books
- Text books
- Greeting Cards
- Labels for jars, bottles e.t.c.
- Contacts – phone/address
- Playing cards/games
- Voting Materials
- Convention materials
- Maps
- Calendars
- Bespoke requests

Please call (07) 3848 5257 if you have any questions or to find out how we can assist.

Braille House

507 Ipswich Road
P.o. Box 610
Annerley QLD 4103

P: 07 3848 5257

E: admin@qbwa.org.au

W: www.braillehouse.org.au